

India's 25 most influential women

Jayanti Chauhan, Director, Bisleri Group

Chauhan is preparing to take over operations of the 1,000-crore Bisleri brand from her father Ramesh Chauhan. The former fashion stylist worked at her father's company for a brief while in 2009 before she left to pursue a Masters in Arabic from London. After travelling across the globe, she returned to put to rest rumours of a company buy-out and with the "perspective and motivation" to take forward her father's legacy. Chauhan's long-term goals include capturing 100 per cent of the Indian market, taking Bisleri overseas and making it an international brand.

